

Celtic Harmony Camp is a reconstructed Iron Age settlement in 13 acres of beautiful woodland near Hertford.

It is a non profit making organisation providing natural and cultural heritage education to promote a more sustainable way of life, and co-ordinates an inclusive programme of: School visits, Family Fun Days, Environmental Team Building and Corporate Events, Group Visits, Birthday parties, Special educational needs days, Youth work projects and Volunteer days.

Join the Celtic Harmony friendly team working in the peaceful setting of a Celtic Village set in 13 acres of native woodland. Celtic Harmony Camp is open in holidays for visitors to "Step into Celtic Times" and take part in hands-on activities such as face painting, arts and crafts, woodland treasure hunts, archery and storytelling. You can assist in a range of activities from welcoming visitors, helping with craft activities for children to giving a hand in the craft shop as well as dressing up in Iron Age clothes! One day a week is requested for a volunteer (10.00 a.m to 3.00 p.m).

Celtic harmony is an access organisation for Duke of Edinburgh Awards.

Heartwood Forest is England largest new native woodland being created in St Albans. It covers a large area of 858 acres and will eventually boast 600,000 new trees, a community orchard, miles of paths and rides and an array of wildlife.

The work party volunteer will work as part of a regular team of volunteers who will plant and mulch trees to prevent weeds. This will involve pit planting trees and mulching each tree using straw bales. It may also involve checking a previously planted area has been planted and mulched correctly and gapping up where needed.

This will be a great way for you to gain experience, a great excuse to get outside, keep fit and help us to create a new woodland. Work party days will run from 10.00 am to 3.00 pm on different days during the week.

For more information, please contact the St Albans District Volunteer Centre on 01727 852657. The Volunteer Centre is at St Albans District Centre for Voluntary Service, 31 Catherine Street, St Albans. It is open Monday to Thursday 10am to 4pm, Friday 10am to 1pm, and from 4pm-7pm on the third Wednesday of each month.
